COOKIE NOTICE

WWW.AXELTECHNOLOGY.COM

AND STORE.AXELTECHNOLOGY.COM

From AXEL TECHNOLOGY s.r.l. ("Owner") to the Site User (also referred to as "You")

PRIVACY PREMISE

This information concerns the use of cookies in relation to the processing of personal data concerning individuals. It must be deemed supplementary to and not a replacement of the provisions set out in the separate PRIVACY NOTICE, which must be referenced beforehand in order to understand this information.

1. WHAT IS A COOKIE?

A cookie is a small set of data used to store information in the data folders of your browser, or of your software, when you visit a website (such as the Site). They are used widely either to allow websites to operate or to operate more efficiently, and to provide information to the site's Owners.

2. PERSONAL DATA PROCESSED USING COOKIES

Unless anonymous, no personal data is intentionally collected by the Owner; data is, however, collected in order to compile a database of the activities carried out on the Site and of other preferences or user behaviour while browsing the Site.

3. TYPES OF COOKIES USED ON THE SITE, LISTED WITH DURATION

The Site uses only technical cookies (i.e. text files stored on the device) which are suitable solely for sending session identifiers to ensure safe and efficient Site use, proper navigation, and correct Site operation. Technical cookies used are not stored permanently in the users' computer systems, as they are deleted when the browser closes or at another time stated later. These cookies are required technically to ensure safe and efficient Site exploration.

No tracking, persistent, or otherwise personalised cookies will be used for user profiling purposes. Cookies employed by third parties for analysis purposes are adopted to solely to generate completely anonymous, aggregate statistics, for the Owner and the said third party suppliers.

Set out below is a list of technical and other cookies used by the Site, the types of which vary according to their purpose

I) WWW.AXELTECHNOLOGY.COM INFORMATION SITE:

4. THIRD-PARTY COOKIES

The third-party suppliers of the following cookies (as well as related information) are set out below:

- Google Analytics: anonymous statistical cookies – please see data protection policy: <https://policies.google.com/privacy/partners?hl=it>; in order to disable analysis cookies and prevent monitoring by Google Analytics in all websites, you can download the Google Analytics Out feature (to deactivate analytics) as an add-on to the browser, here: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout?hl=it>.

The Site Owner does not own these cookies and is not responsible therefor. The Owner has arranged for the technical anonymisation of the aforesaid cookies on its website and has signed the amendment by Google to avoid the combination of data collected with other information.

5. TRACKING/DISABLING COOKIES

If you prefer Google Analytics not to use the data collected in any way, you must: a) navigate anonymously (using the "Do Not Track" option in your browser); to find out how to activate the option on the main search engines, refer to the browser you are using: Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, MozillaFirefox, Apple Safari; or b) disable Google Analytics on your browser by installing the relative disabling add-on.

Most browsers accept cookies automatically and allow them to be controlled using their own settings, even though the user is not required to accept them. All cookies can be disabled by changing your browser settings, following the appropriate procedures. Useful tips on this are available here: <http://www.wikihow.com/Disable-Cookies>.
